

INDIGENOUS OUTREACH WORKER

Niwasa Kendaaswin Teg is looking for an energetic Indigenous individual to support the EarlyOn team as the Indigenous Outreach worker. The Indigenous Outreach Worker is responsible for engaging and supporting children and families, primarily on the Hamilton mountain, in early learning, cultural activities and service supports through a case management model.

Strengths

- Experience working with a diverse community of children, staff, families, and community service organizations.
- Effective oral and written communication, organization, and time management skills.
- Excellent leadership and interpersonal skills.
- Experience effectively applying problem solving skills and mediation/alternative dispute resolution strategies.
- Ability to work well in a team environment, Ability to maintain and promote confidentiality
- Knowledge of Indigenous culture, history and language is recommended.
- Theoretical and traditional knowledge of First Nation, Métis, and Inuit issues and realities in an urban Indigenous setting.

You will have the opportunity to:

- Plan and facilitate parent education sessions.
- Create and implement a workplan and outreach calendar.
- Liaison with Indigenous and non-Indigenous Service Providers as well as Early Years Service Providers.
- Case management for a limited caseload to assist individuals attain short-term goals/needs.
- Knowledge of Indigenous culture, history and language is recommended.
- Theoretical and traditional knowledge of First Nation, Métis, and Inuit issues and realities in an urban Indigenous setting.

You must have:

- A clear current Vulnerable Sector Screen
- First Aid and CPR, Level C
- Post-secondary education with a minimum of 3 years experience delivering culturally relevant service.
- Case management experience is an asset

Please submit your resume and cover letter to : office@niwasa.ca

By: Friday March 31, 2023 - noon.

Only those qualified and selected will be contacted.

Niwasa Kendaaswin Teg provides holistic programs and service for Indigenous children, youth, families and community that are rooted in culture and language. Our vision is to provide high quality programming that fosters identity formation and creates a sense of belonging.